

How E2i Developed an Elegant Solution to a Common Issue in the Pharmaceutical Industry

Familiar with E2i's ingenuity and problem-solving aptitude, Eli Lilly approached E2i to develop a means of displaying reports of process system alarm and diagnostic data for a specific sector of their plant.

Demanding that these reports be granular, manipulable, and able to be printed from anywhere within their internal network, E2i would end up creating a reporting portal through ASP.NET WebForms.

Click this link to read the finer technical details of how E2i fulfilled the client's request.
